But then.... so do a lot of other companies???

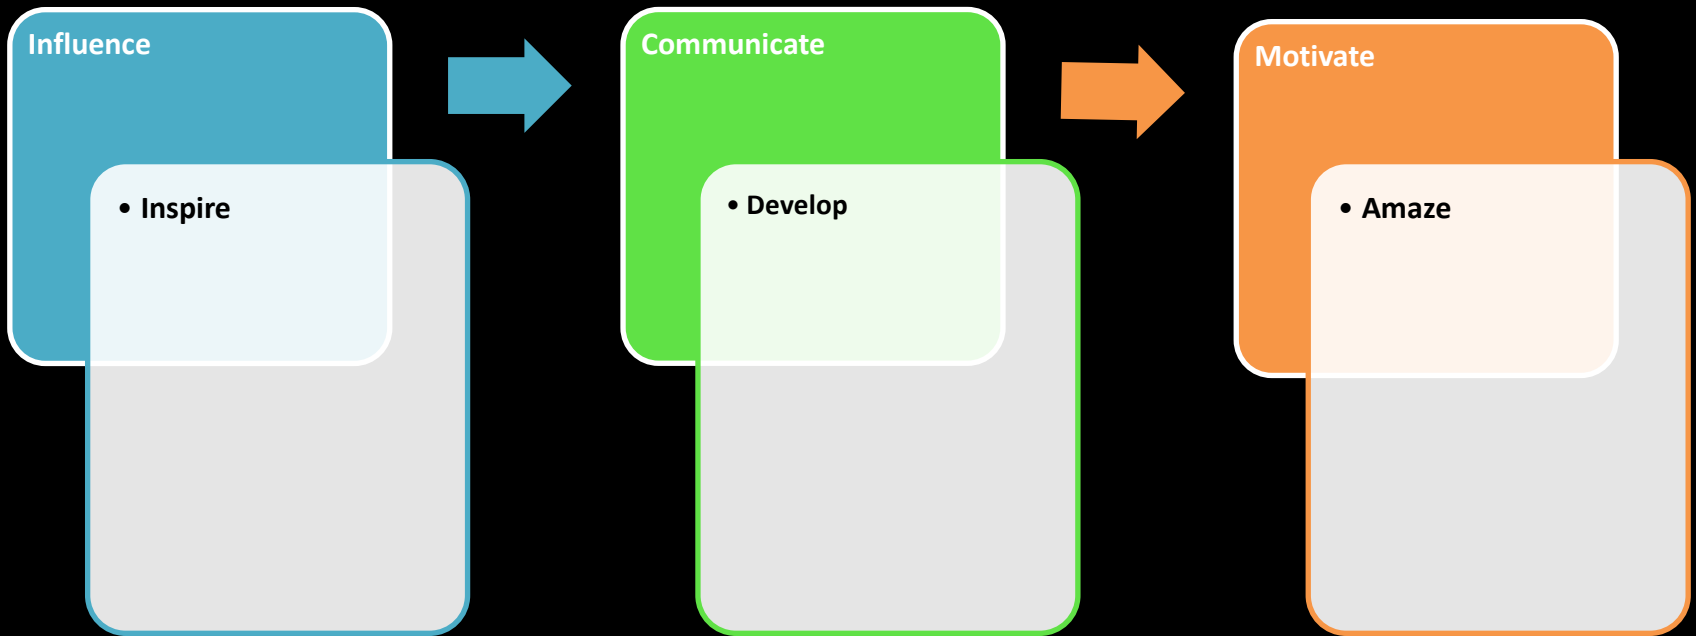

- What makes us different is the way that we approach our work; we are an intimate, creative and open agency.
- We explore what you want people to know, feel and do. Then we create events that achieve those goals.
- We help make the most of budgets, however big or small.
- We do things differently in order to make a difference.
- We help leaders inspire people, draw them together and create a vision shared by all.
- We get people to speak up and speak out, stand up and stand out.
- We bring about change through honesty, participation, challenge and inspiration.
- We turn sceptics into listeners, and listeners into participants.
- We help celebrate success and the pleasure of working together for a common goal.
